- Why: The home building industry concluded several years ago that the public wanted an opportunity to look at new housing to see modern up-to-date products and building techniques. The industry wanted to develop a way that people could see the latest in products and building techniques with no restraints... be allowed to browse... to look at decorating, furnishings, landscaping, room arrangements... to obtain ideas for their present homes or for a future one... an opportunity to compare floor plans. The HOMEARAMA provides these opportunities, and at one convenient location, the 2008 HOMEARAMA at Stoneycrest in Union.
